2.1. Necessary. Necessary cookies help make a website usable by enabling basic functions like page navigation and access to secure areas of the website. The website cannot function properly without these cookies. Cookies used on the SPARK Website are intended to ensure quality performance of the Website. These cookies are necessary for the Website to function properly and cannot be switched off. These cookies do not store any data which can identify the User and are deleted when the User leaves the Website.

Preferences. Preference cookies enable a website to remember information that changes the way the website behaves or looks, like your preferred language or the region that you are in.

Statistics. Statistic cookies help website owners to understand how visitors interact with websites by collecting and reporting information anonymously. Cookies apply with respect to the User who repeatedly visits the Website as they remember settings made by the User on the Website. These cookies allow us to calculate the number of Website visitors and traffic sources so that we can measure and improve the performance of the Website. They help us to keep track of which pages are the most popular and how the User uses the Website. For this purpose, SPARK uses the Google Analytics statistics. SPARK does not disseminate the collected information. The collected information is completely anonymous and does not identify the User.

Marketing. Marketing cookies are used to track visitors across websites. The intention is to display ads that are relevant and engaging for the individual user and thereby more valuable for publishers and third party advertisers.
